No Angel By Helen Keeble

Mix the wry humor of Vladimir Tod, the relatability and fun of Ally Carter, and a sinfully hilarious setup, and you have No Angel—an unforgettable spin on angels and demons from the author of Fang Girl.

Rafael Angelos just got handed the greatest gift any teenage boy could ever dream of. Upon arriving at his new boarding school for his senior year, he discovered that he is the only male student there. But Raffi's about to learn that St. Mary's is actually a hub for demons—and that he was summoned to the school by someone expecting him to save the day. Raffi knows he's no angel—but it's pretty hard to deny that there's some higher plan at work when he wakes up one morning to discover he's sprouted wings and a glowing circle around his head. . . .

Editorial Review

Review

“Likable voice, well-drawn characters and dead-on humor.” (Kirkus Reviews)

“Keeble provides readers with snarky characters; a quick-moving, entertaining plot; and a fascinating setting.” (School Library Journal)

From the Back Cover

Being the only guy at an all-girls school isn't exactly a dream come true . . .

That's right. I, Rafael Angelos, am the sole member of the male sex at St. Mary's School. Prepare yourselves, ladies. But while the girls here are ridiculously hot, they also take popularity, cliques, and bullying to new levels of crazy. So I've decided it's my job to step in. Protect the meek, smite the wicked, and win the heart of a beautiful victim while I'm at it.

The whole "guardian angel" thing is getting a little out of hand, though. I really didn't sign up for a weird, glowing circle around my head—or a pair of wings. And I'm starting to worry that there's a reason so many of the girls act like they're possessed by demons. . . .

About the Author

Helen Keeble is not, and never has been, an angel. She has, however, been a teenager. She grew up partly in America and partly in England, which has left her with an unidentifiable accent and a fondness for peanut butter crackers washed down with a nice cup of tea. She now lives in West Sussex, England, with her husband, daughter, two cats, and a variable number of fish.
